Book Club News - January 2017

Dear past students

Have you ever tried the experiment below? Which line is longer?

You must have heard about this Müller-Lyer illusion and learnt that the length of both lines are same. Yet, have you wondered why your eyes tell you otherwise? Daniel Kahneman, the Nobel Prize winner in Economic Science, explains this and other interesting mind patterns in the most intriguing way that you will never think about thinking quite the same again.

Let's enjoy a wonderful mental journey together and refresh our brain at the start of 2017.
